INTRODUCTION TO
The Robert E. Webber
Institute for Worship Studies

A Message from the Founding President Robert E. Webber (1933 – 2007)

Dear Reader,

Here is a question I have heard again and again: “Where can I go to study worship—not music— but worship?”

The Institute for Worship Studies was founded with that question in mind. More and more professors of church music, music ministers of the local church and pastors realize there is a gap in their education. They have the music education and the skills for music and worship leadership, but they lack the knowledge of the biblical foundations, historical development, theological reflection and cultural analysis for effective worship ministry in today’s world. The Institute for Worship Studies was founded to meet this need and prepare leaders for the changing task of worship ministry.

Here is what I have observed in the last few decades: music ministry and worship leadership have been going through a significant change. Formerly, a music minister or a worship leader was only in charge of music or worship leadership. Their task was to oversee a division within the church that concentrated on everything musical pertaining to public services. But now, music and worship leadership has evolved into a pastoral ministry. The ministry includes more than the entire musical life of the church. What was once only music is now worship teaching, worship evangelism, worship spirituality and even counseling. Most music and worship pastors are not prepared for the shift. At the Institute for Worship Studies we know this, and we are prepared to help.

The Institute for Worship Studies does not offer music courses. We assume our students have this knowledge and skill. Instead, we concentrate entirely on the process of helping them become worship pastors.

Being a worship pastor in today’s complicated world is no simple matter. Worship needs a foundation in the theological disciplines, in the personal disciplines of spirituality, in the disciplines that create and sustain community, and in those disciplines that empower all the ministries of the local church.

Training in the disciplines of worship is the goal of the Institute for Worship Studies. We teach those who teach, lead those who lead and pastor those who pastor.

If this is the kind of education you have longed for, and if you qualify for our Doctor of Worship Studies or our Master of Worship Studies, we would love to hear from you. We exist to serve you as you serve the local church or teach in college or seminary.

The Lord be with you.

Robert E. Webber, Founding President

Dr. Robert E. Webber founded the Institute for Worship Studies in 1998. From 1968 to 2000 he served as Professor of Theology at Wheaton College, and was named Professor Emeritus upon his retirement in 2000. He was appointed William R. and Geraldine P. Myers Professor of Ministry and Director of the M.A. in Worship and Spirituality at Northern Baptist Theological Seminary in the fall of 2000. Bob died April 27, 2007, after an eight month struggle with pancreatic cancer. In January 2007, the Board of Trustees unanimously voted to change the name of IWS to the Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies in honor of the vision, accomplishments and contributions of Bob Webber.

A Message from the President

Dear Reader,

Bob Webber posited, “Worship is the key to the renewal of the church.” The Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies is the only school in North America dedicated to graduate education in worship. Its mission is to form leaders in worship renewal. Pastors, music ministers, worship leaders and teachers from over 60 denominations have enrolled in our degree granting programs that are academically sound and highly applicable. All courses are prepared with the convictions that worship must be rooted in the Biblical narrative, drawing on the rich treasures of Christian history, and committed to glorifying God in the postmodern context. IWS combines the best of distance education with on-campus classes focused on building an intentional learning community. The result is an applicable and stimulating graduate education.

The church in the beginning of the twenty-first century has demonstrated a significant need for servant leaders who are willing to be used by the Lord as catalysts for worship renewal in their local congregations, schools and communities. Essential to these emerging leaders is the understanding that renewal happens most effectively in the framework of ongoing community formation. IWS has been uniquely established to develop such leaders and to help them connect their studies and their on-campus experiences to their own places of ministry. Our alumni, students and faculty are truly impacting the church through invigorated worship practices and education rooted in solid biblical, theological and historical reflection.

At IWS, we feel that it is our responsibility to facilitate the creation of an academic community which enables our students to acquire a practical, applicable education of the highest quality. Consequently, we seek to serve the students, faculty, and staff by engendering a strong communal ethos. This process of community development is energized and reinforced through worshiping, studying, eating, fellowshiping, and ministering together during our on-campus sessions. During the year interaction is maintained via the website message boards, emails, and even phone calls and regional fellowship groups. Through the employment of an overall philosophy of servant leadership, we want to help make the student’s educational experience as satisfying and pleasant as possible so that the maximum benefit may be received through study, practicums, and fellowship between students and faculty. Our priority is to provide our students with the communal context in which they may have an enriching, stimulating, practical and impacting academic experience. May the Lord richly bless your endeavors at IWS.

Grace and Peace,

James R. Hart, President

Mission Statement

The Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies (IWS) forms servant leaders in Christian worship renewal and education through graduate academic praxis, grounded in biblical, historical, theological, cultural and missiological reflection in community.

IWS Vision

IWS graduates will be academically and spiritually formed servant leaders who participate intentionally in the story of the Triune God, fostering renewal in the local and global church by shaping life and ministry according to the fullness of that story.

Statement of Faith

The Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies, its administration and its faculty confess the historic Christian faith. We affirm the centrality of Jesus Christ and the authority of Scripture in all matters of faith and practice. Thus, we confess with the whole church the summary of faith handed down throughout history and affirmed by all Christians everywhere:

Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty,
Maker of heaven and earth.
I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord.
He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit,
Born of the virgin Mary,
Suffered under Pontius Pilate,
Was crucified, died and buried.
He descended into hell.
On the third day, he rose again from the dead.
He ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again to judge the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
The holy catholic church,
The communion of saints,
The forgiveness of sins,
The resurrection of the body,
And the life everlasting.
Amen.

IWS Core Values

IWS serves God's action in history to express his lordship over all creation through worship situated in the Divine Narrative.

1. IWS is evangelical in nature and ecumenical in outlook, embracing and serving the whole church in its many expressions and variations of the Christian faith, particularly articulated by the consensus of the ancient Church and its guardians in the traditions of Eastern Orthodoxy, Roman Catholicism, the Protestant Reformation and the Evangelical awakenings and heritage.
2. IWS emphasizes God's story of creation, incarnation and recreation through which God brings the entire cosmos under the reign of Christ, and the rehearsal of that story in Christian worship.
3. IWS draws on the classical interpretation of Scripture, affirmed by the Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, and the Council of Chalcedon, together with the affirmation of an evangelical grounding and ecumenical outreach.
4. IWS offers an ongoing critical appraisal of Christian worship, with an open mind and heart to an authentic faith and practice in the twenty-first century.
5. IWS intentionally remains a self-sacrificing, simple school of students involved in an intense spiritual interaction with each other, not unnecessarily encumbered by building ownership, big budgets and a large full-time staff.
6. IWS "teaches those who teach," continuing to raise up leaders around the world whose ministries are grounded in intentional biblical, historical, theological, cultural, and missiological reflection.
7. IWS pursues its vision through an educational methodology that combines an on campus experience of academic learning and spiritual community, distance learning components and up-to-date technology.

In addition, IWS is committed to:

- the centrality of Christ and the Scriptures,
- the importance of creating and sustaining Christian community,
- an evangelical perspective with an intentional ecumenical outlook,
- a student-directed and personally reflective learning process,
- the enhancement of local congregations through practical application papers and projects, practicums, special services and the like, and
- openness to variety in worship patterns.

Institutional Goals

1. Programs (Academic and Spiritual Formation)

- a. IWS will offer rigorous academic programs leading to masters and doctoral degrees in Christian worship.
- b. IWS will purposefully integrate theory and practice in our academic programs.
- c. IWS will ground our academic programs in biblical, historical, theological, cultural, and missiological reflection in community.
- d. IWS will cultivate Christ-like servant leaders for the global church, shaped by the Divine Narrative rather than the cultural narrative.

2. Possessions (Facilities, Finances, Resources, and Technology)

- a. IWS will retain and/or maintain appropriate facilities, encourage community life for on-campus sessions, and provide necessary space and resources for our local administrative staff and library.
- b. IWS will control tuition and other student costs by focusing expenditures on people, technology and appropriate infrastructure rather than large capital projects.
- c. IWS will maintain a financially stable infrastructure that is consistent with the mission and vision of IWS, including having adequate reserves and restricted funds for long-term sustainability.
- d. IWS will provide the academic and practical resources necessary for quality academic reflection and research, including appropriate physical and electronic learning resources.
- e. IWS will maintain up-to-date technology and provide essential training to facilitate the development of an intentional online academic community.

3. People (Faculty, Students, and Staff)

- a. IWS will recruit and support faculty members that are highly qualified, both academically and professionally, spiritually mature, active in Christian ministry, and deeply and personally committed to the lordship of Jesus Christ and the mission of IWS.
- b. IWS will recruit, support, and teach students from the United States and other countries who are academically prepared, spiritually committed, and engaged actively in Christian ministry.
- c. IWS will recruit and support well-qualified staff members to provide all necessary student services and other administrative leadership.
- d. IWS will offer an on-campus experience that is semi-monastic, designed to create a strong sense of community among the students, faculty, staff and alumni of IWS that can be continued and enhanced in the online environment.
- e. IWS will provide opportunities for encouraging the ongoing academic, spiritual and ministerial development of its alumni.

Every attempt has been made to align our educational goals with our mission statement. These goals reflect the commitment of IWS to an organic understanding of a story-formed approach to the Christian faith. We are committed not only to the unity of all knowledge of God's story in history but also to all ministry as applied theology. We do not sever ministry from God's story, but situate it in God's story through reflection in the biblical, historical, theological, cultural and missiological disciplines. We seek therefore to form all ministry by the Divine Narrative, not the cultural narrative.

History

The Institute for Worship Studies was conceived in the early 1990s by Robert Webber. The goal from the beginning was to offer academic courses to train pastors, music ministers, worship leaders, theologians, church leaders and lay people to understand and practice renewed worship.

In the mid-nineties, two programs were begun in conjunction with established seminaries. A program of studies leading toward the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) was begun in connection with Northern Baptist Seminary in Lombard, Illinois. At the same time a Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) in worship studies was established at Tyndale Seminary in Toronto, Canada.

Numerous applications were made to Northern by music ministers and worship leaders who had completed their master's degrees in music, but wanted doctorates in worship studies. Because a Master of Divinity was required for entrance into the D.Min. program, these students were rejected for graduate study.

It was Robert Webber's conviction that there should be a doctoral program of worship study with wider admission standards. This degree should teach worship from a biblical, historical, theological and cultural perspective without requiring a theological master's degree or its equivalent.

James Hart, then the music minister of Grace Episcopal Church in Orange Park, Florida, committed the use of their church campus for the school. Hart made the appropriate connections in the state of Florida, and the Institute for Worship Studies was established as an authorized non-profit school in the state of Florida with assistance through membership in the Florida Council of Private Colleges, a state-approved educational association.

The Institute for Worship Studies opened with its first class of twenty students in June of 1999. The Master of Worship Studies program began in 2002. Since that time, IWS has grown steadily and matriculates an average of 57 new students a year.

Students have been enrolled from more than 60 denominations and fellowships, from nearly every state, and numerous countries including Argentina, Australia, Canada, Costa Rica, England, Ethiopia, France, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Ireland, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, Mexico, Myanmar, Nigeria, Norway, Pakistan, Philippines, Poland, Russia, Singapore, Spain, Taiwan and Turkey.

"The goal from the beginning was to offer academic courses to train pastors, music ministers, worship leaders, theologians, church leaders and lay people to understand and practice renewed worship."

Accreditation

The Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of the Association for Biblical Higher Education, 5850 T.G. Lee Blvd. Suite 130, Orlando, FL 32822 (407) 207-0808. Please visit them online at www.abhe.org.

IWS is also a member of the Florida Council of Private Colleges (FCPC), which represents its member independent colleges and universities before any government and/or educational agency. FCPC is an educational association that provides experienced quality peer review of faculty, academic curriculum and course development, distance learning processes, campus operations, catalogs, brochures, advertisements, application forms, financial records and student records and transcripts to the minimum FCPC standards. FCPC standards exceed the minimum standards of the state of Florida. For verification of all FCPC standards go to www.fcpc.info.

The faculty commitment is to “excellence in teaching.” The students’ standards of learning follow the guidelines of the best practices of federally recognized schools.

The Unique Nature of the Institute for Worship Studies

The Only Institute of Its Kind

- The Institute for Worship Studies is the only accredited institute in North America exclusively designed for graduate studies in worship with the commitment of forming servant leaders in worship renewal!
- A student can earn a graduate degree in church music in any number of schools. However, students who desire an education in the biblical, historical, theological and cultural disciplines of worship will find that only at the Institute for Worship Studies where every course is focused on worship content.
- All courses are designed with an “ancient-future” perspective.

We Model the Future of Education

- IWS combines one-week January and June on-campus intensive classes with quality distance learning interaction during each 4 month term.
- We have an attractive user-friendly campus, yet own no buildings!
- Students study with a world class faculty of worship scholars, yet we have no full-time faculty!

We Learn in Community

- In the one-week intensives, we eat together, study together and experience community based on honest and open relationships.
- We incorporate a wide range of ages from early 20's to late 60's.
- We are Asian, Indian, African-American, Native American, Hispanic and Caucasian.
- We are men and women together in ministry.
- Students and faculty come from over 60 denominations and fellowships, from almost every state and more than 25 nations.

We Continue to Learn Online

- We keep in contact with professors and each other through such means as discussion board conversations, email communications, appropriate online social networking, etc.

COMMUNITY Life

A Message from the Dean of the Chapel

Dear Reader,

James B. Torrance wrote, “The Triune God is in the business of creating community.” As your IWS Dean of the Chapel, I pledge to do everything I can to lead us to offer “elbow room” to the Holy Spirit for the creation of community. That’s where our all-loving Triune God earnestly desires to breathe his breath of life.

During our week together, our meals are taken together, creating table fellowship that is vital in the building of our community. At the meals, our thanksgiving to God is sung. Morning chapel, which kicks off each day immediately following breakfast, features a convergence of musical styles, a Scripture reading and short inspirational talk from yours truly, spontaneous and liturgical prayer and a joyous “passing of the peace” to conclude the service.

In my chapel talks, I endeavor to set the spiritual pace for each day by urging us all to turn our eyes upon Jesus. I seek to weave together the various strands of life that are being simultaneously spun in our collective gathering. In an attempt at what I would call an “incarnational” approach to each morning’s consideration of a short passage of Scripture, I draw from reading material assigned to the entire community, appropriate experiences from my own pilgrimage and those of others shared with me by students and faculty members, as well as vignettes I have heard in the various classroom lectures.

Since many of our faculty members are ordained ministers and licensed counselors as well as respected scholars in their areas of specialty, it is not unusual for moments of fellowship, personal sharing and prayer to occur in the classroom right alongside the academic regimen and vigorous theological discussion.

As founding Institute President Webber said, “Learning occurs most easily in the context of community.” IWS seeks to offer its students the unique blend of excellence in intellectual pursuit and the safety of a pastoral setting.

If you are ever in need of pastoral care regarding your job, sin issues or other sensitive areas, please feel free to call upon me for confidentiality, prayer partnership, counseling referrals and other ministry needs. It will be my honor to serve you however I can.

Peace be with you,

Darrell A. Harris, Dean of the Chapel

Chapel

Even the stunningly beautiful cruciform architecture of Hendricks Avenue Baptist Church enhances our quest to unite our hearts and voices in praise of Father, Son and Holy Spirit with those of the saints of every age who have gone before us.

“Our chapel worship is refreshingly simple, and is based on the traditional monastic threefold pattern of worship. The model consists of praise, Word and prayer.”

Our chapel worship is refreshingly simple, and is based on the traditional monastic threefold pattern of worship. The model consists of praise, Word and prayer. The sung parts of the service are designed with stylistic convergence in mind, and feature elements of well-known hymns and praise choruses, songs from Taizé, simplified Anglican chant and even Gregorian chant.

IWS Dean of the Chapel Darrell A. Harris brings a ten-minute talk each morning, and seeks to touch on topics relevant to worship, worship-leading and the life of the Spirit forming the Christ-community among us gathered and wherever we return to serve locally.

Every morning space is made for spontaneous prayer, as well as opportunity given to pray liturgically. Our service concludes with a victorious unison community proclamation of the mystery of faith: “Christ has died; Christ is risen; Christ will come again!” Then the peace of the Lord is exchanged as we go forth to work, study and serve the Lord.

Our service concludes . . . “Christ has died; Christ is risen; Christ will come again!”

Community Meals

Eating together is one of the most important things we do to establish and express community. Eating is the context for establishing relationships and transforming casual relationships into deep lifelong commitments.

There is no pecking order in our eating. Sometimes a student will eat with a particular faculty member, but mostly students and faculty sit down at the nearest table to talk and to get acquainted more fully with a person from another class.

Karen Lewis, our food service director, together with her family, loves to cook. They are there from early in the morning to late at night to serve fresh, delicious homemade food and scrumptious desserts.

Great conversations develop around the tables: conversations about faith, ministry in the academy and ministry in the church. Sometimes discouraged hearts are lifted; other times a word of wisdom and direction is heard; but most of all, deep bonds are established and wounds are healed as people talk through ministry issues and learn from each other. Ministries are empowered. Lifelong relationships are made. Fellowship, even fun, is experienced by all.

“Great conversations develop around the tables —conversations about faith, ministry in the academy and ministry in the church.”

“Eating together is one of the most important things we do to establish and express community.”

Student Life

Location: Jacksonville, Florida

Jacksonville is situated on the St. Johns River in the historic First Coast region of Northeast Florida. The Jacksonville metropolitan area's proximity to area lakes, beaches, world-class golf courses and other outdoor attractions have made this community a popular locale for both residents and visitors. Nearby historic attractions include St. Augustine (the nation's oldest city), Ft. Caroline National Monument (settled by the French Huguenots in 1564), Kingsley Plantation (Ft. George Island, built in 1792) and the Golden Isles of southeast Georgia (Cumberland Island, Jekyll Island, and St. Simons Island).

Jacksonville is just a few miles from the majestic Atlantic Ocean. The semi-tropical, sun-kissed climate enjoys seasonal fluctuations but remains relatively temperate year-round.

Campus

Hendricks Avenue Baptist Church (HAB) hosts the Institute for Worship Studies.

The church is located at 4001 Hendricks Ave., Jacksonville, FL. HAB has a large, beautiful campus with a new sanctuary that is only eight years old. It is situated just a few blocks from the picturesque St. Johns River in San Marco, an historic part of Jacksonville located just south of downtown. Particular outreach emphases of the church include fine arts, sports, special needs children and adults, and counseling. Additionally, three immigrant congregations hold weekly worship services at the church.

Morning chapels and evening worship practicums are held in the elegant main church building. Classes are convened in various classrooms around the HAB campus. The church's fellowship hall serves as the refectory and activity hub for the week. The Family Life Center Building houses the school's administrative offices, library and student lounge with wireless internet access. The bookstore is located on campus. There are a number of grocery stores, shops, malls and restaurants nearby, some within walking distance of the campus.

Housing

IWS students will have the following options available for housing during the on-campus sessions:

1. IWS will make arrangements at a nearby hotel to reserve a block of rooms for students at a reduced rate. An email will be sent to all new and returning students two months prior to the on-campus sessions describing this hotel option. Students are not limited to this option; they may choose a different hotel if they wish. Students are responsible for making their own reservations.

2. Members of local churches have offered to host students in their homes. Home stays are available during each session on a first come, first served basis. Students wanting to take advantage of this opportunity should email the office staff at housing@iws.edu. Arrangements must be requested no later than one month prior to the start of the on-campus session. Home stays are free of charge. Transportation to and from campus must be provided by the student.

Meals

All meals during our intensive studies weeks will be eaten together in the dining hall (refectory) on campus for the purpose of building a strong sense of community. The meals will be balanced and healthy with a good variety of foods being offered at each meal.

The cost of the meals for the week will be communicated to students by email two months prior to the on-campus sessions. (All international students must pay all fees in U.S. dollars.) Since Sunday is a personal day, no meals will be offered on that day. Meal payments are due 30 days of the receipt of the invoice. A $50 fee will be assessed for payments postmarked after the due date. Since our meal service director prepares for a set number of people each day, partial meal payments are not allowed. In special cases (such as early departing flights) and with adequate advanced notice, arrangements may be made for a meal to go. Checks should be made payable to "The Institute for Worship Studies" and noted "IWS meals."

Meal payments should be sent to:
The Robert E. Webber Institute for
Worship Studies
Controller
151 Kingsley Ave.
Orange Park, FL 32073

Transportation

Students are responsible to provide their own transportation to and from campus. Those who need rides can post a ride request on the message board, giving arrival time and flight information. Emailing classmates is also a viable option. There is an IWS van which makes runs to the airport to transport faculty on the day before the sessions commence, as well as on the last day of the sessions. International students may make arrangements through the office to ride in this van when room is available.

Daily Schedule

7:30-8:15	Breakfast
8:30-9:00	Morning worship
9:00-12:00	Morning class sessions
12:15-1:00	Lunch
1:15-4:15	Afternoon class sessions
4:15-5:30	Free time
5:30-6:30	Supper
6:30-7:30	Practicum or lecture with discussion
7:45-8:30	Fellowship/ Social time

Each session will begin with an orientation for new students and a presidential lecture by the IWS president. Each session will also have an opening convocation. This is a worship service and includes a celebration of the Lord's Table. (We invite and encourage IWS students to join the choir and instrumental ensemble.) A reception follows the opening convocation.

Sundays:

There are no scheduled IWS Sunday morning worship services. You are more than welcome to attend services at any local church. An area church directory can be found on Moodle. You are encouraged to attend a church in a tradition different from your own.

Sundays in June only:

3:00 Commencement rehearsal
3:30 Choir rehearsal
5:00 Commencement

(IWS students are invited and encouraged to join the choir and instrumental ensemble for the commencement services.)

Other Information Regarding Student Life

1. The on-campus experience is semi-monastic in that it is designed to create a strong sense of community among the students, faculty and staff of the Institute. This communal ethos is reinforced by our corporate times of worshipping, studying, eating, fellowshiping and ministering together. It is also reinforced by the interactions during the year on the message boards and through emails.
2. There is no dress code for the on-campus weeks. Florida is hot and humid in June and cool (sometimes even cold) in January, so students should dress accordingly. All of our buildings are well air-conditioned in the summer and heated in the winter.
3. There is an on-campus IWS bookstore. Some of the books written by our faculty are available, along with a limited selection of other titles. Also available is an assortment of IWS products such as shirts and hats. We cannot ship orders to students—they must be carried with them when they leave. The bookstore accepts cash, checks or MasterCard and VISA.

4. All students will be issued an IWS student ID which may be presented in establishments which offer student discounts on products and services.

Orientation

Students on campus for the first course of their degree program arrive early for orientation. This pre-session orientation will help facilitate community-building, train students in research techniques and equip them to use the technological tools required for IWS. The orientation fee is a one-time cost of $155 and orientation will conclude prior to the Presidential Address on the first day of the intensive week.

“The on-campus experience is semi-monastic in that it is designed to create a strong sense of community among the students, faculty and staff of the Institute.”

PROGRAMS OF Study

A Message from the Academic Dean

Dear Reader,

You are entering the academic section of this catalog. I am aware that for many people the term “academic” has only negative connotations. It is viewed as being theoretical, cognitive, formal, and impractical. Especially for action-oriented persons, academics do not appear to have practical value equivalent to true, affectionate relationships and compassionate action.

Yet academics are more than that and are vitally important. In holistic education, cognitive reflection (as in academics) is not intended as an end in itself but instead as that which informs and empowers action. It combines the theoretical and the practical, the mental and the visceral.

And it is vitally important because we cannot effectively communicate God’s story without reflection. Academic studies and reflection on the nature of God; the nature of people, individually and collectively; the dynamics of wholesome relationships; and how God relates to us are requisite to an informed relationship with God through worship and fruitful relationships to others through service. How can we hope effectively to live and advance God’s story without clearly understanding it? And academic reflection is one of the key means to that end. Even spiritual growth significantly involves the mind.

Academic policies and procedures are your friends. They are not intended as additional hurdles that you need to clear, but instead are intended to help you navigate your way through your degree programs by identifying what obstacles to avoid and what steps to pursue in order to gain the most from your program of studies.

Therefore, love the Lord with all your mind as well as with all your heart and strength as you seek to prepare yourselves to become more effective servant leaders of worship. And I trust that what you will find in the following pages will facilitate that journey.

Blessings in Christ,

Eric Ohlmann, Academic Dean

Educational Philosophy

Education in the modern world was primarily teacher-based. The student, it was supposed, came to class with little or no knowledge of the subject, sat under the instructor, and at the end of the course demonstrated how much of the instructor's knowledge had been imparted through a test or a paper.

At the Institute for Worship Studies we do not follow this model. We follow the philosophy of learner-based education. In this philosophy of education the focus is on a student-directed process of learning.

Here is how it works: The majority of students who come to study at the Institute for Worship Studies are already accomplished in the field of ministry. They have ten, twenty, even thirty years of experience in the classroom, in music and worship ministries and/or in the pulpit. At the Institute for Worship Studies, we value this background and experience and treat students with respect for their wisdom and accomplishments. Instead of having a typical teacher/student relationship, we enjoy a collegiality in which all of us together are learning. Therefore, the teacher uses his or her knowledge in the field to stand alongside the student and facilitate his or her learning.

Each course has a particular content and students are to work within the parameters of its subject. Each person is asked to think, "How can this material be integrated into my ministry?" With that question in mind, the learner appropriates the material of the course into his or her work—the classroom, week-byweek worship planning or preaching preparation. In this way the learner is not working for the teacher, but for his or her own knowledge and immediate use in ministry.

The process of this learner-based education is threefold. It begins with a pre-course reading

*"This is the future of education.
Someday all education will be like this."*

—DWS student assignment. During this time the student is asked to identify how this material can enhance his or her ministry (identify an issue). The second stage is to interact with the material in the classroom situation. Courses are taught by highly qualified teachers who combine knowledge and experience to create a dynamic learning situation. Presentations will be made. Discussions will follow. In this setting, the class thinks reflectively with the biblical, historical, theological, missiological and cultural disciplines. The third part of the process is for each student, having dialogued with the material, to prepare a paper or project integrated with his or her ministry. For example, a college or seminary professor may create a syllabus for a course, a worship pastor may plan services or a pastor may plan a series of sermons. This material is turned in at the end of the semester for evaluation.

Each semester lasts for approximately four months. During this time the student may use the discussion board or email fellow students and faculty for continued interaction on his or her project.

Each semester, students and faculty read an assigned book, usually on a discipline that interacts with worship, such as a book on theology, the church, postmodern culture, communication theory and missiology. The new semester begins with the president's lecture on the book, and then the theme of the book is integrated with chapel and classes.

In these and other ways, the Institute creates an atmosphere of learning in community. It is an exciting venture in high-powered but non-competitive intelligent and experiential learning. As one student said, "I've never been involved in education like this. Why can't all schools teach this way?" In response one student, a seminary professor in one of the largest seminaries in America, said, "This is the future of education. Someday all education will be like this." Whether it will or will not be so, we like to think we are a different sort of school. And we intend to keep it that way.

Doctor of Worship Studies

Description of the Doctor of Worship Studies Degree

The Doctor of Worship Studies degree is a unique and ground-breaking program with its entire curriculum formed around worship studies. It is designed for worship leaders, pastors, professors, church musicians, artists and other church leaders. Every course deals specifically with worship, yet integrates the theological disciplines into each course. Students who graduate from this course of study will be able to reflect on worship through the disciplines of Scripture, history, theology and cultural analysis. All studies are geared toward the mission of the church to give witness to God's redeeming work in the world and to fulfill the mandate of the great commission.

The purpose of the doctorate program is not only to educate, but to encourage spiritual formation so as to prepare the student to minister to both the minds and the hearts of God's people. The Institute for Worship Studies will help you:

- Reevaluate your personal spirituality and ministry in light of the shift from modernity to postmodernity.
- Develop the ability to think deeply about your ministry as it relates to the disciplines of theological thought and to the ministries of the church.
- Learn how to listen to the text of culture and to discern how biblical faith is communicated within the current post-Christian cultural setting.
- Consider your own ministry goals as they pertain to the material of each course.

The Doctor of Worship Studies Requirements

The Doctor of Worship Studies program is a 34 credit hour course of study. It consists of four six-hour courses for 24 credit hours, a two hour practicum course, and an eight-hour thesis course.

Each course is offered in a one-week intensive. These one-week intensives meet in January and again in June. All courses are offered in each term. In addition to the on-campus component, each course consists of a pre-campus assignment, and a post-class assignment due approximately three months after the on-campus intensive. Students who elect the regular program of study will complete work for the doctorate in three years. The four regular courses will be taken in a two-year sequence starting in either January or June of each year. A third year is required to complete the thesis.

Students may also opt for the extended program of study. In this program students may take the four courses in either four consecutive January or four consecutive June terms. A fifth year is given for the completion of the thesis.

After the completion of the first three courses, DWS 701, 702 and 703 the student is considered for doctoral candidacy. There are three levels of continuation:

- Full candidacy
- Probationary candidacy
- Advanced Graduate Certificate of Worship Studies (see page 35)

Descriptions of the DWS Courses

DWS 701

The Biblical Foundations and Historical Development of Christian Worship (6 hrs)

Instructors: Andrew Hill and Alan Rathe

Beginning with a study of the theology, institutions and practice of worship in Scripture, this course explores the ways in which biblical models can inspire worship renewal today. The biblical foundations side of the course surveys the history of biblical worship, its theological foundations, and the practice of worship as reported in the Old and New Testaments. Special emphases include investigating the relationship between spirituality and corporate worship, addressing the concepts of sacred time and sacred space, examining the place of the Psalms in Hebrew and Christian worship, probing the idea of worship as spiritual warfare, and exploring the Hebrew roots of Christian worship. The historical side of the course includes a survey of Christian worship through the centuries. This section of the course exposes students to worship in every period of Christian history in both the Eastern and Western churches. Special attention is given to exploring historical shifts in how Christian people have understood God, the church, salvation and the church-culture intersection with respect to worship.

DWS 702

The Renewal of Sunday Worship: Music and the Arts (6 hrs)

Instructors: Constance Cherry and Jeff Barker

Corporate worship of the Triune God is the central, ongoing occupation of the Christian community. Yet worship is always offered in changing times, places and cultural contexts. Therefore worship renewal that is grounded in sound theological reflection is often necessary. This is especially true today as churches seek to take into consideration the shift into a post-modern world. This course explores how the content, form, and styles of worship are enlivened through intentional worship design and the expression of the arts. Special attention is given to the ministries of music, the performing arts and the fine arts.

DWS 703

The Christian Year: Forming Congregational Spirituality (6 hrs)

Instructors: Daniel Sharp and Jack Van Marion

This course focuses on the way the church celebrates the mighty acts of God in Jesus Christ through the observance of the Christian year. It deals with services of worship for the seasons of the Christian year, from Advent through Pentecost, and also addresses ordinary time and the daily office of prayer. Special emphasis is placed on the evangelical nature of the Christian year and on planning services that adopt the ancient traditions to current practice. Because the study of the Christian year inevitably leads to the Scriptures, this course guides students through the biblical and theological significance of each season, including the sanctoral cycle. This course gives students new insights to be used in their ministries of music and worship through the Christian year.

DWS 704

The Sacred Actions and Ministries of Christian Worship (6 hrs)

Instructors: Reggie Kidd and Donna Hawk-Reinhard

This course explores the sacred actions of worship, particularly baptism and Holy Communion, from biblical and historical perspectives. It also addresses the relationship of these two actions with Christian formation and pastoral care.

DWS-P

The Practicum Course (2 hrs)

Instructor: Kent Walters

The Practicum Course sequence totals 2 credits:

DWS 702P (0.5 hour credit)

DWS 703P (0.5 hour credit)

DWS 704P (1 hour credit)

The Practicum Course is designed to enable students to explore and apply principles of worship renewal that correspond with their current course of study. Briefly, worship renewal is the recovering of biblical worship that recognizes the Triune God as the subject of worship and leads the worshiper in appropriate response to God's divine action in worship. The practicum experience allows students to focus purposefully and creatively on areas of worship renewal addressed in their classes and in their places of ministry. Students collaborate to plan and lead the IWS community in worship on Friday, Monday and Tuesday evenings of each on-campus session. Following the 702P and 703P worship segments, fellow students and members of the faculty offer feedback for the purpose of celebrating and reinforcing the worship values that shape biblical worship and facilitate genuine worship renewal. Students receive a grade of pass or fail for the course, and must complete each course concurrently with the corresponding course in the DWS curriculum.

DWS 801

The Thesis/Project Course (8 hrs)

Instructors: Vaughn CroweTipton and Jessica Jones

Theses/Projects are to be completed in one year.

The on-campus section of this class provides specific direction on how to write a thesis or prepare a project. Guidance is given on the specific nature of the proposal and the means by which a proposal is translated into a finished project. Special attention is given to the integration of the theological disciplines into thesis/project writing. Classroom time takes place on campus during the session following the completion of DWS 704.

Students then complete their thesis or professional project at their home site under the direction of a supervisor. They are encouraged to do a thesis/project that is integrated with their ministry. The method of doing a thesis follows the same pattern and expectation of the D.Min. thesis standards in seminary education.

Master of Worship Studies

Description of the Master of Worship Studies Degree

The Master of Worship Studies degree is specifically designed for worship teachers, music ministers, worship leaders and pastors. It is the only master's program in the world with its entire curriculum designed around worship studies. Every course deals specifically with worship, yet integrates the theological disciplines as well. Students who graduate from this course of study will be able to reflect on worship through the disciplines of Scripture, history, theology and cultural analysis. All studies are geared toward the mission of the church to give witness to God's redeeming work in the world and to fulfill the mandate of the great commission.

The purpose of the master's program is not only to educate, but to encourage spiritual formation so as to prepare the student to minister to both the minds and hearts of God's people. The Institute for Worship Studies will help you:

- Reevaluate your personal spirituality and ministry in light of the shift from modernity to postmodernity.
- Develop the ability to think deeply about your ministry as it relates to the disciplines of theological thought and to the ministries of the church.
- Learn how to listen to the text of culture and to discern how biblical faith is communicated within the current post-Christian cultural setting.
- Consider your own ministry goals as they pertain to the material of each course.

The Master of Worship Studies Requirements

The Master of Worship Studies program is a 30-hour course of study, consisting of five six-hour courses.

Courses are offered in a one-week intensive on-campus time in the January and June sessions. In addition to the on-campus sessions each course has pre-session and post-session requirements.

Four courses cover the biblical, historical and cultural (including both western postmodern and global) aspects of Christian worship. These courses provide the student with the basic working tools for ministry in today's world. They provide the foundation for the fifth course, a ministry internship.

The Master of Worship Studies Curriculum (30 hours)

MWS 501	A Biblical Theology of Worship, 6 hours
MWS 502	History of Christian Worship, 6 hours
MWS 503	Contextualization, Spirituality and Christian Worship, 6 hours
MWS 504	Cross-cultural Perspectives in Christian Worship, 6 hours
MWS 601	Ministry Internship, 6 hours

The Master of Worship Studies program may be taken in a regular schedule, finishing in two years, or an extended schedule, finishing in four years. The MWS 601 Ministry Internship is taken concurrently with the third and fourth foundational courses.

Descriptions of the MWS Courses

MWS 501

A Biblical Theology of Worship (6 hrs)

Instructor: Dinelle Frankland

This course will explore the concept and practice of worship in the Old and New Testaments. Students will be taught a biblical theology of worship that takes into account the variety of biblical materials related to worship. This course serves as a foundation for present and future ministry.

MWS 502

History of Christian Worship (6 hrs)

Instructor: Greg Wilde

This course is an overview of the history of Christian worship, its theology and rituals from the early church to today. Special attention is paid to the rites of the first four Christian centuries and the theology of worship inspired by their development. Events and cultures engendering subsequent ecclesial groups and forms of worship are also explored.

MWS 503

Contextualization, Spirituality and Christian Worship (6 hrs)

Instructor: Carl Park

This course will address the relationship between spiritual formation and Christian worship. Course material examines cultural trends in theology, philosophy and epistemology. The centerpiece of the course is a wide-ranging look at ancient and emerging practices of Christian spirituality and spiritual formation through the lenses of worship, thought, art, architecture and society.

MWS 504

Cross-Cultural Perspectives in Christian Worship (6 hrs)

Instructors: Paul Neeley, Frank Fortunato, and Michael Hawn

This course explores the impact of globalization on Christian worship in the 21st century. Students will examine a wide variety of contemporary cultural expressions of worship, and seek to understand how these expressions reveal the Triune God. Students will also reflect on how understanding these expressions might enable deeper engagement with the Triune God in the student's own worship setting.

MWS 601

Ministry Internship (6 hrs)

Instructor: Emily Vermilya

In this course students will work one-on-one with a supervisor to design, implement and evaluate a practical ministry internship. The internship is done under the direction of a field supervisor approved by the Institute for Worship Studies and follows the normative standards expected in that field of work for master's-level students.

The Regular Schedule is as follows:

Non-degree Program

Advanced Graduate Certificate of Worship Studies

Qualified students who hold a master's degree may enroll in the DWS advanced program as non-degree students. Upon successful completion of the four core courses they will receive an Advanced Graduate Certificate of Worship Studies (AGCWS) without having to take the Thesis/Project course.

“The impact of the IWS doctoral program has been immense. The quality of teaching, the rich fellowship of the student body, and the nurturing atmosphere are unprecedented, and a welcome change from the normal academic environment. Thank you, IWS faculty!”

POLICIES & Procedures

Academic Policies

Finances

Tuition

Tuition is currently $395 per credit hour for DWS courses and $360 per credit hour for MWS courses. The total cost of the doctorate tuition, including practicum courses, is $15,440. The total cost of the Master's tuition is $12,439. Tuition and fees for new and returning students are due 30 days from invoice date. A late fee of $50 will be assessed for tuition payment postmarked after the due date.

Tuition rates are subject to change since the catalog was printed. For the most up to date information please visit the IWS website.

Meals—see pages 19 and 20

Payment of Tuition and Fees

All international students must pay fees in U.S. dollars. All payments for tuition, meals, extension fees, incomplete fees, continuation fees and graduation fees should be sent to:

Attn: Controller
The Robert E. Webber Institute for
Worship Studies
151 Kingsley Ave.
Orange Park, FL 32073

Payment may also be made by credit card on the IWS website, www.iws.edu.

Students may prepay tuition to lock in at the current tuition rate, if prepayments are made in full at the beginning of the semester before the change date. For example, typically tuition rate changes are made in June, so any full tuition prepayments made by January 1 can lock in to the January tuition rate.

Payment of Accounts

Students who owe money from the previous course will not be permitted to register or attend classes for the next course until all bills are paid.

Financial Aid

IWS has limited scholarship and grant funds available. For more information about how financial aid works at IWS and how to apply, please refer to the IWS website. If you would like to establish a scholarship fund in your name, in the name of another person, or if you know someone who would like to establish a scholarship, please contact the president of IWS at 800.282.2977.

Campus Usage Fee

Because IWS owns no buildings, we rent classroom space from neighboring churches each session. All students pay a campus usage fee of $155 per person per term to help offset these costs.

Graduation Fee

A graduation fee of $325 for DWS and $225 for MWS and AGCWS is required to cover the cost of graduation. This fee is charged to all graduating students, whether or not they intend to attend Commencement. Graduation gowns, caps and hoods as well as rings are available. A regalia representative makes a visit to campus each term. Students may be measured at that time and order graduation attire.

Drop Procedures

Students who drop a course will receive either a WP (Withdrawal/ Passing) or a WF (Withdrawal/ Failing). Reimbursement for courses dropped is as follows:

Before the course session begins —100% of the term tuition (excepting any non-refundable $500 deposits for new students, if applicable).

During the week of the course at any time—50% of the term tuition.

There is no term tuition refund after the on-campus session.

Fees are not refundable after January 1/June 1.

Class Attendance

Students are required to attend the on-campus segment of each course.

Grading System

The faculty-approved grading scale for course work at the Institute for Worship Studies, in accordance with professional graduate standards, is:

A and A- excellent, superior

B+ very good

B good, average, satisfactory

B- below acceptable standards for graduate work

C+ improvement expected for continuation in the program

C, C- deficient work in degree program

D and F very deficient

Any student receiving a grade of C+ or lower in any course is considered to be on academic probation. The student must earn a grade of B or higher in the next course taken, at which point the designation of academic probation is removed.

If a student on academic probation fails to earn a grade of B or higher, the IWS Registrar's office reserves the right to require the student to retake the course immediately, to move the student into the extended schedule, or in extreme circumstances to dismiss the student from the program.

If a student fails a course, they must retake that course before advancing in their given program. If a student receives two grades of C+ or lower, s/he must retake one of those courses before advancing in their given program, and must earn a grade of B or higher. DWS students will not be permitted to retake more than one course and will be limited to one retake for their entire matriculation, excepting the thesis course (DWS 801). MWS students will not be permitted to retake more than two courses, will be limited to two retakes for their entire matriculation, and cannot retake the same course twice.

Any doctoral student receiving a grade of C+ or lower for two or more courses will be awarded the Advanced Graduate Certificate of Worship Studies (AGCWS) upon the satisfactory completion of all four core courses (each with a grade of C or higher) and will not be eligible to enter the thesis course. Any doctoral student who receives two or more final course grades of C+ or lower may proceed to the thesis course only by retaking one of these courses for academic credit and earning a grade of B or higher.

Any doctoral student who, for personal or academic reasons, chooses not to complete the thesis is eligible for the AGCWS, assuming that the four core doctoral courses have been satisfactorily completed.

The DWS faculty will evaluate doctoral students after the completion of the DWS 703 course to determine whether they may matriculate into the DWS thesis course.

Within 9 years of beginning matriculation in the DWS program, AGCWS certificate holders can finish a degree by turning in the certificate, reapplying for the thesis process, retaking the thesis course and completing the thesis.

Master's students who receive a cumulative grade point average below B will not be eligible for the master's degree. Instead, they will be awarded a Graduate Certificate in Worship Studies (GCWS). Any master's student who, for personal or academic reasons, chooses not to complete the ministry/internship is eligible for the GCWS, assuming that the four core master's courses have been satisfactorily completed.

Graduation Requirements

To be recommended for an IWS degree the candidate must:

1. Have completed all required courses with no less than a B (3.0) cumulative GPA.
2. Have paid all financial obligations to IWS in full.
3. Have returned all materials to the IWS Library.
4. Give evidence of satisfactory formation in Christian maturity and skills in worship ministries.
5. Have satisfactorily completed all other program requirements.

Late Work

Our work at IWS is based on collegiality; therefore, meeting deadlines is a matter of Christian community. The promptness with which academic work is submitted is not only an educational requirement, but also a matter of spiritual discipline befitting any person in ministry. All students are responsible for meeting the assignment deadlines outlined in the syllabi and/or IWS Yearly Calendar (pg. 61).

A student who, for good cause, cannot complete the work of the course by the end of the term may be granted an extension at the discretion of the course professor. The extension must be requested prior to the course due date. Extension forms are available on the website and should be filled out and sent to the registrar with the fee payment. An extension fee of $100 is required. A normal extension would be one month, again at the professor's discretion. If the extension deadline is not met, the student automatically will receive an "Incomplete."

An "Incomplete" course must be completed by the end of the following term or a failing grade will be posted for the student. Students must complete a course before they are allowed to take the next course in the program. An incomplete fee of $200 is required ($100 if the extension fee has already been paid). A failing grade may be eliminated or avoided by retaking the course.

Students who are on the extended schedule are not eligible to take an "Incomplete," as these students have already been given an extra semester in which to complete their work.

Transfer of Credit and Cooperative Educational Agreements

Due to the unique nature of the IWS curriculum, there will be no transfer of credit into IWS for application towards any of the MWS or DWS courses.

At this time, IWS has established cooperative educational agreements with B.H. Carroll Theological Institute (Arlington, TX), Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary (South Hamilton, MA) and Knox Theological Seminary (Ft. Lauderdale, FL). The purposes of these agreements are 1) to enable students to take worship studies courses that may contribute to a degree in one or more of the cooperating institutions; 2) to enable students who have completed IWS studies to be eligible for elective transfer credit when completing a degree at one or more of the cooperating institutions; 3) to encourage cognitive and affective domains of students in the field of Christian worship.

These agreements allow IWS students to enroll in prescribed programs at any of these cooperating institutions and receive direct credits for equivalent IWS courses on a one-to-one basis, as approved by the registrar of the receiving institution. This may reduce a student's required credits for completion of a program by as many as 12 credit hours. Additionally, students from these cooperating institutions may take courses at IWS and transfer the credits into their institutions on a one-to-one basis, as approved by their registrars, for up to 12 credit hours.

Each cooperating institution's entrance and completion requirements will be defined in their respective catalogs. Students applying to study at any of these institutions must meet all applicable entrance requirements for the institution to which they are applying. Entrance and completion requirements shall be determined, at the sole discretion of each institution, without requiring approval from the other institution. The entrance and completion requirements of each institution are subject to change, and may be changed at the sole discretion of each institution, without the approval of the other institution. Students shall be notified of any changes to entrance or completion requirements through a supplement to the catalog of the institution making such change(s).

A student may complete their IWS studies prior to, concurrent with, or subsequent to commencing or continuing studies at a cooperating institution. The cooperating institution shall accept transfer of IWS credit hours on a one-to-one ratio (e.g., 1 credit hour obtained through IWS shall be accepted as 1 credit hour by the cooperating institution). A student may obtain transfer credit for up to 12 credit hours of elective credit for completed IWS studies upon review and approval by the registrar of the receiving institution. Upon fulfilling IWS completion criteria for an IWS offering, a student may request IWS send an official transcript of their IWS studies to the receiving institution. Upon receipt by the cooperating institution of an official transcript from IWS and a formal request for transfer credit, the student shall be awarded credit for the IWS studies in accordance with the above stipulations.

For more information, please contact the Director of Enrollment Management at 800.282.2977.

DWS Thesis Continuation

One year is allotted for thesis completion, with up to two additional years allowed for a continuation. No more than three years are allowed for the entire thesis process, and no more than two years are allowed to complete the thesis after the proposal is approved. Permission for thesis continuation must be obtained from the thesis supervisor and a fee of $300 sent to the office for each continuation term. If the thesis is not approved at the end of the year, a fee of $300 is assessed for each continuation term.

Mentoring

IWS approved mentors provide input and encouragement for those students identified as needing academic support in the form of English language, graduate research and writing, or other required skills.

Textbooks

Students can purchase textbooks through our online bookstore partner, CBD. The online bookstore is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and the ordering process is simple. The online bookstore is organized according to each individual student's course schedule with real-time inventory when ordering. In addition, CBD offers textbook buyback at competitive buyback prices. CBD operates a U.S. based customer contact center, available 7 days a week for questions or to place phone orders. To explore the online bookstore, call their Customer Contact Center at 800.247.4784 or go to www.iws.christianbook.com.

The IWS on-campus bookstore typically does not carry a full stock of course textbooks.

The Complete Library of Christian Worship (7 Vols.) by Robert Webber is a fundamental resource that is strongly recommended, though not required, for all IWS courses.

Library

The IWS library collection focuses on the biblical, theological, and historical study of worship with over 10,000 volumes in its Orange Park location. Students have access to the ATLA Religion Database, an online resource with over 1 million theological journals, essays and book reviews. IWS and Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, Jacksonville, have established the Jacksonville Area Theological Library Consortium, allowing IWS and GCTS students to have access to both institution's collections. In addition, library use agreements have been established with both Northern Baptist Theological Seminary and the University of North Florida. Please contact the IWS Library office at 800.282.2977 for details on these agreements.

Update of Personal Profile

All IWS students are responsible for updating personal profile information on the website on a semi-annual basis, or when there is a change in contact information (e.g., addresses, phone numbers, email addresses, etc.). Please visit your profile on Populi to make these changes, at www.iws.populiweb.com.

Each student is provided with an @iws.edu email account. Students are expected to check this account regularly; official IWS communications will be delivered there.

Confidentiality of Student Educational Records

IWS regards student educational records as highly confidential and is committed to compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), Revised Edition, 1995.

Retention of Records

Third party letters of recommendation received for admission purposes are not formal student records. Consequently, they are destroyed after they have served their purpose. The Registrar maintains a student's other application materials and permanent academic records during and following a student's active status. Other non-permanent record materials are destroyed after graduation.

English as a Second Language

Students for whom English is a second language must utilize the services of an English reader/editor (at the student's expense) with their papers and theses for editing before they are advanced to the IWS professors. Some students may also be asked to go on the extended schedule.

Plagiarism

Sadly, even Christian writers at times succumb to plagiarism. Most basically, plagiarism is defined as presenting “the ideas and works of another as one’s own” (The Merriam-Webster Dictionary). Words or phrases taken from another source are considered a direct quote and must be enclosed in quotation marks and footnoted. Ideas and their expression are, by copyright law, the intellectual property of the original author or speaker. Therefore, sources of distinctive ideas, facts, paraphrases or opinions must also be acknowledged in a footnote or endnote.

Therefore, when in doubt, err on the safe side by documenting sources. For appropriate forms of footnoting see Kate Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 8th edition, Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2013.

Plagiarism has serious academic, ethical and legal consequences. Intentional or unintentional failure to use appropriate documentation in research papers, examinations, oral presentations, or other academic work will result in academic penalty.

If a case of plagiarism comes to a faculty person’s attention, the faculty person will consult with the student concerned. If it is determined the student has violated the plagiarism policy, the faculty person will inform the Academic Dean who will take appropriate action in consultation with the faculty person involved. The assignment plagiarized will fail, unless the faculty person concerned cites mitigating circumstances. Regardless, the faculty person is required to bring the case of plagiarism to the attention of the Academic Dean who will enter the incident in the student’s official record. The Academic Dean may choose additional consequences including failing the course affected or even expulsion from the Institute.

In a good faith effort to inform our students on the plagiarism issue, and to avoid the potential of plagiarism or any other form of academic dishonesty, IWS requires that all students complete a Plagiarism Tutorial prior to their first course and submit a signed copy of a Statement of Academic Integrity during Student Orientation. Complete the Plagiarism Tutorial at <http://library.acadiau.ca/tutorials/plagiarism>. Choose “Dylan (Arts)” as the path for your tutorial.

Ethical Conduct and Human Sexuality

Commitment to Christ involves commitment to Christlike living and therefore is imperative for all Christians. Rightly or wrongly, Christian leaders are expected to exemplify a higher standard. Therefore, diligent attention to this facet of spiritual formation is required of every member of the IWS community as we prepare for more effective servant leadership. Among the standards to be followed are Scripture; inspired theological, historical, ethical, cultural and missiological reflection upon Scripture; and IWS’s Mission Statement, goals and policies. Conduct that is not compatible to these guides may be subject to correction/discipline (see below).

Correction/Discipline, Mediation, and Grievance Procedures

Correction/discipline, as used here, are responses to vexations of individual students; mediation and grievance procedures are activated for interpersonal conflicts.

Correction/Discipline

A student who encounters serious academic or related difficulties or engages in unacceptable conduct may be required to take some corrective measures. The student may be required to: 1) meet with a faculty adviser or the Academic Dean until the matter is satisfactorily resolved; 2) meet with an outside counselor; 3) go onto academic probation; 4) commit to some corrective disciplines; 5) switch to a certificate program; 6) take a leave of absence; or 7) follow through with whatever the faculty recommends, if the matter is referred to the full faculty. These directives will be communicated to the student both orally and in writing. A recommendation for dismissal from the Institute must be approved by the full faculty. When the above recommendations or requirements are put in writing, at least one copy will go to the student and one to the student’s file.

Mediation

Mediation is intended as a preventive process. If conflict arises, it is the first level of response, with the expectation of preventing further escalation. As much as possible, it is conducted in an atmosphere of Christian caring, integrity and respect. In a Christian context, conflicts between individuals or groups should be resolved, if possible, by the persons or groups concerned. That is the expectation at IWS. If these efforts fail, the Academic Dean and Dean of the Chapel will appoint a neutral, ad hoc mediation committee, consisting of two students and two faculty members or administrators. They will meet with the aggrieved parties, individually and/or collectively, clarify the issues, and attempt to achieve reconciliation, based on Christian principles of fairness and justice. Records of all meetings will be kept confidential.

Grievance

The grievance process is to handle disputes not otherwise resolved by mediation. Individuals or parties who feel that their grievances were not satisfactorily resolved by mediation may request that the grievance process be initiated. This is essentially an appeals process that provides the opportunity for a second hearing. To that end, an ad hoc grievance committee of two students and two faculty members or administrators, who were not involved in the mediation process, is appointed. These persons may be appointed by the Academic Dean and Dean of the Chapel if the appointment process is contested, the students and faculty or administrators may be selected by their peers. This committee will meet with the aggrieved parties, individually and/or collectively, clarify the issues, consider appropriate measures and attempt to achieve a satisfactory resolution. A decision made by this group is final. Records of all meetings will be kept confidential.

Graduation Rate

IWS enjoys a strong graduation rate of 73%.

Audit Policy

All classes may be audited. Auditors are restricted to non-participation member status in classes (with permission for participatory status the prerogative of the instructor[s]). Auditors may apply to shift to credit status, but this must be done before the due date of the first post session assignment for that course. Once a student shifts from audit to credit, they must take a W (Withdrawal) if they choose not to finish. All requests to audit are dependent on class size.

Student Disability Policy

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) prohibits discrimination against individuals with disabilities and provides equal access to educational opportunities for qualified students with physical or mental disabilities. Students may self-identify any qualified disability as defined under the ADA for which assistance is needed in carrying out their educational obligations. Individuals with disabilities are defined under the ADA as persons who either have or are regarded as having a record of a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. The Institute will make every reasonable effort to accommodate any students needing assistance within the definitions and requirements of the law.

Learning Disability Policy

IWS will assure that necessary steps are taken to ensure that no qualified student with a disability is denied the benefits of student status, or is otherwise subjected to discrimination while enrolled in IWS.

The Institute for Worship Studies is committed to providing equal access to educational opportunities to qualified students with physical or mental disabilities as intended by section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (<http://www.usdoj.gov/crt/ada/adahom1.htm>). Since we are hosted by several area churches, IWS is limited in its facilities' accommodations to students with physical disabilities. Nevertheless, IWS is committed to making all necessary and reasonable arrangements for such students.

Being an educational institution, this policy is primarily concerned about learning disabilities. A "person with a disability" is someone with an impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; has a record of such an impairment; or is regarded as having such an impairment. A qualified student or applicant with a disability is an individual who, without reasonable accommodation, cannot perform the usual essential functions of a student.

Disabilities may be physical, emotional or behavioral, learning, and intellectual or developmental. While there are many types of disabilities that impact learning, most often they impact spoken language (listening and speaking); written language (reading, writing and spelling); arithmetic (calculation and mathematical concepts); and reasoning (organization and integration of ideas and thoughts).

However, accommodations must match and mitigate the student's functional limitations. Limitations in learning may be auditory perception and processing, visual perception and processing, information processing speed, abstract reasoning, memory, spoken and written language, planning and time management and the like. Each of these requires different accommodations.

Therefore, a student with a disability must:

- Provide the Registrar with the exact nature of his or her learning limitations (preferably with document verification), when registering for a course. [IWS may require documentation to substantiate a disability. Documentation may include official medical diagnosis, psychological evaluations, etc. If the Institute finds that the documentation is not adequate to support the existence of a disability or that it does not show the disability to be limiting in the work or school environment, additional documentation may be required. The compliance officer is the Registrar. For academic accommodation, contact the Registrar and the Academic Dean. For physical accessibility only, contact the Registrar.]
- Indicate how these limitations affect your learning (e.g., from the list above).
- Indicate what kinds of accommodations might be helpful (e.g., special seating, enlarged print, extended deadlines for assignments, taped texts or books on tape, taped lectures, peer note taker, tutor/mentor, tailored practical assignments, or other accommodations as requested and approved). These must match the disability and alleviate the limitations caused by the disability.

- If the request is approved by the appropriate authority(ies), the student must also inform the faculty member(s) of the course early enough to allow time to negotiate reasonable accommodations before the course begins.

IWS will:

- Review the student's request by the appropriate authority(ies);
- Evaluate the merits of the request, with appropriate resources and consultation, if needed;
- Suggest reasonable accommodation(s), where appropriate;
- Secure approval of the faculty member(s) involved;
- Secure approval of the student;
- Document the evaluation process and reasonable accommodations agreed upon; and
- Follow up with faculty members and the student to assure that the reasonable accommodations were appropriate and effective.

Administration, Staff & Faculty

She holds a Bachelor of Sacred Music degree from Lincoln Christian University, a Master of Music in Church Music from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and a Doctorate of Worship Studies from the Robert E. Webber Institute for Worship Studies. She has taught music and worship in Christian Higher Education since 1979. Dr. Frankland teaches regularly at TCMI Institute, a seminary near Heiligenkreuz, Austria, that trains ministers from several Eastern European countries. She is the author of His Story, Our Response: What the Bible Says About Worship and travels throughout the U.S. as a speaker and worship leader. At IWS she enjoys interacting with a variety of students who are eager to further their education for the benefit of God's Kingdom.

Dr. Frank Fortunato

Frank Fortunato has served in music ministry his entire lifetime. He taught college music courses followed by music ministry with Operation Mobilization's mission ships. Frank completed his Master's studies in ethnomusicology in 2002 and his D.W.S. in 2013. Frank serves as the international worship consultant for OM, and as an arts in mission advocate with various global Christian networks. He is the Vice President of The International Council of Ethnodoxologists (ICE). He serves as the Coordinator of Missional Relations for the Webber Institute, and directs the GROW Center (Global Renewal of Worship) for IWS. He is the founder of OM's Heart Sounds International, a ministry producing indigenous worship recordings mostly in the restricted parts of the world. Frank co-authored All the World is Singing—Glorifying God through the Worship Music of the Nations, and co-edited Worship and Mission for the Global Church: An Ethnodoxology Handbook. The Fortunatos are based at the OM USA headquarters in Atlanta.

Dr. C. Michael Hawn

Michael Hawn is University Distinguished Professor of Church Music and Director of the Sacred Music Program in Perkins School of Theology, Southern Methodist University, where he has taught since 1992. He taught previously at two Southern Baptist Seminaries for fifteen years. He holds the Doctor of Musical Arts and the Master of Church Music degrees from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. His research and publications are primarily in the areas of congregational song and cross-cultural worship with over 300 articles, books, reviews and curriculum materials published. He has taught and conducted research in Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe and Latin America. Two of his books are Gather into One: Praying and Singing Globally (Wm. B. Eerdmans, 2003) and One Bread, One Body: Exploring Cultural Diversity in Worship (The Alban Institute, 2003). In 2006 he served as the music director for the IX Assembly of the World Council of Churches in Porto Alegre, Brazil. He was elected a Fellow of the Hymn Society in the United States and Canada in 2008.

Dr. Whitlock, a Presbyterian minister, has spent much of his life in education, including 27 years at Reformed Theological Seminary (RTS). Dr. Whitlock joined the faculty of RTS in 1975, and, at the age of 37, was appointed president, a position he held for 23 years. Under his leadership, RTS grew from a small regional school to one of the most innovative as well as one of the 10 largest seminaries in North America.

Dr. Whitlock's years of ministry have been marked by an effort to bring mutual understanding and cooperation within the worldwide evangelical community, which led him to serve on the boards of the National Association of Evangelicals (NAE), the World Evangelical Fellowship (North America region), Mission America, the Lausanne Committee for World Evangelization, and Greater Europe Mission. He was co-founder and co-president of the International Reformed Fellowship, and later assumed a major role in the establishment of the World Reformed Fellowship. Dr. Whitlock has contributed to more than 20 books and 20 periodicals. He is author of The Spiritual Quest and served as executive director for The Spirit of The Reformation Study Bible.

A Message from the Director of Alumni Activities

Dear Readers:

Let me first say that IWS is a unique community and once you're a part of it you always belong. Bob Webber and the entire IWS community had a significant and lasting impact on my life and ministry while I was a student at the school, so I consider it pure joy to serve the alumni, students and faculty in an ongoing capacity.

The Alumni Association was established when the first class of DWS students graduated in June 2002. Chris Alford was one of those first graduates, and he led the efforts of extending the IWS community to the alumni in the early stages of the association. Then, in June of 2004, I was appointed Director of Alumni Activities. I was also privileged to be a part of the first graduating class—the Alphas. The IWS Alumni Association exists to celebrate and maintain the unique community established among the students and faculty while on campus in Orange Park. Our aim is to encourage, edify, and inspire the alumni. Several key resources and endeavors help to that end:

- 1) Anamnesis: the IWS newsletter is published quarterly to keep the IWS community informed and connected through information on fellow graduates, students and faculty members, and IWS activities.
- 2) The alumni website facilitates communication and ongoing renewal with tools that include directory information, worship resources, articles by the faculty, and audio files from the on campus sessions.
- 3) Annual post-graduate courses are offered in a seminar format taught by respected scholars. Stanley Grenz, Leonard Sweet, Phyllis Tickle, Christopher Hall, Brian McLaren, Don Saliers, Harold Best, Don Davis, and others have led these sessions. Along with the seminar, various alumni events are planned during this time for renewing friendships, reconnecting with faculty, visiting classes, and worshipping with the IWS community, which is a highly valued time for everyone on campus.
- 4) Regional alumni gatherings are being established across the country giving graduates and friends opportunities to meet for mutual growth and encouragement. Some groups enjoy discussing a book each time they meet; others gather to simply enjoy one another's company and exchange ideas and prayer requests. Current IWS Regionals include Minneapolis/St. Paul, West Michigan, Toronto, Chicago, Nashville, Kentucky/Tennessee, Oklahoma, Central Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado Springs. IWS Regionals will continue to spring up as graduates come from all over our country and the world.

Come and be a part of this unique community where personal and ministry transformation is the norm. Your spiritual journey will be enriched through a deeper intimacy with the Triune God, and the warmth of lasting human relationships will give you encouragement and challenge in a community that desires to seek and love God first and best of all.

Blessings,
